

Jessica Johnson

Creative Art

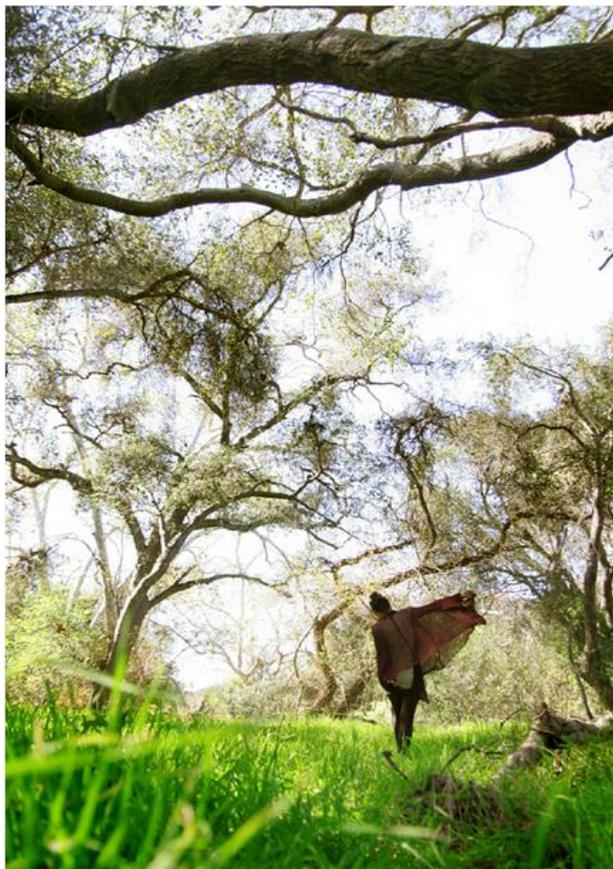

Small Group Class (Five Students)

It's NOT only about drawing. It's real ART

This curriculum includes a wide variety of drawing, painting and craft projects that are specifically tailored to your child's age and ability, integrating diverse materials and levels of difficulty.

The level of difficulty gets stepped up as your child progresses so he or she is endlessly engaged and challenged. It is very important that art remains fun and enjoyable for the students as well as, building self-esteem.

Jessica is always present through challenging moments and will offer endless guidance and tips for enhancing and growing her students' skills. It is her goal that students always look forward to her classes.

Jessica's BIO and Class Instruction

Jessica was born and raised in San Diego, and has been creating art for as long as she could pick up a crayon. Art has always played a large part in her life. Being a fashion design major, her love for fashion still constantly lingers over and into her artwork.

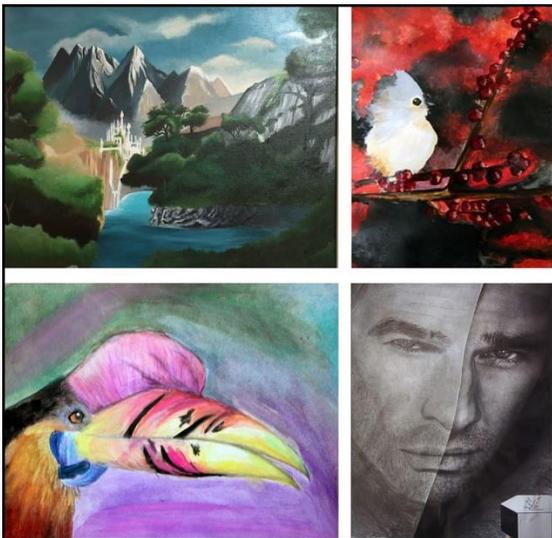

Currently she is teaching art courses for children, teens and adults for several companies in San Diego County. Teaching has given her the opportunity to combine two of her passions: art & aiding people with their natural talents. She is also the founder of Hidden San Diego, which is a website that showcases all hidden, haunted and amazing spots in San Diego!

Photography is equally important to her as it gives her the opportunity to showcase the world through her own eyes. Currently she is the fashion photographer and stylist for Rico Knits and the photojournalist for her Hidden San Diego website.
